Brief About the Product: Sprint Brand Gas Turbine Air Intake Filter cartridges are designed with latest design that is reliable for air intake applications. They ensure highly efficient filtration of dust particles and other contaminants even in the most polluted environment. Normally these are made of mixture of polyester & cellulose and sometimes 100% polyester media. These media have much better pleat ability & dimensional stability. Pleated filter media offers high filtration efficiency, very fine retention level, easy clean ability & aesthetically good product compared to other normal filter media.

Material Composition: Sprint Brand Gas Turbine Air Intake Filter cartridges is made by many types of materials on the market today. The most commonly used media for gas turbine air inlet filters are cellulose, microfibers, and nanofibers. Cellulose media is the most economical, but has the lowest filtration efficiency. It is made of natural fibers

	(plant-based), which are coarse and nonuniform
